Penny Bramwell - Jones
Communication Impact Specialist

Intuitive coaching that builds influential, impactful, and authentic communicators.

A highly experienced intuitive communication coach with a deep understanding of human behaviour, body language and vocal tone, facilitating effective and impactful communication that delivers results.

Penny's Expertise

Penny is the Communication specialist at Lead Talent. She has spent over 16 years in leadership development; facilitating, training, mentoring, and coaching groups or individuals to speak with influence. Her expertise include building a powerful personal presence, building compelling stories based on data to effectively influence stakeholders, resolving conflict to facilitate connection, relationship building, authenticity, thinking on your feet, overcoming the fear of public speaking, building confidence, listening skills, body language and voice analysis for connection, self-regulation techniques to manage nerves and emotional intelligence development.

Penny is not afraid to take risks. She knows how to bring out the best in her clients – to shift them into high-performance, authentic communication. She is tenacious and determined. The value her clients receive is very important to the integrity of her work and ensuring they experience the best version of themselves in the process.

She is the kind of coach who is able to accurately analyse which tools and techniques to bring to the client's coaching experience. Her primary focus is to ensure that her clients go above and beyond achieving their personal development goals.

She builds relationships with ease as her clients feel comfortable being authentic. Penny's greatest strengths are her multi-level listening skills and her understanding of the power of sound through the voice which keeps the coaching experience explorative and engaging.

In our clients words:

"I would 100% recommend Penny if you would like to improve your public speaking and presentation skills and confidence. Penny creates a safe, warm environment to figure out what's holding you back and to fine-tune your 'show-up presence' so that you can own your space with authenticity and impact. It has been a game-changer in my life for sure!"

"Prior to hiring Penny, I had set the goal of having exceptional professional webcam communication skills. After taking over 10 courses about video call body language, background, lighting, confidence, tonality, and more, I still wasn't sure that I was at my best. Penny brought me to that next level and I am grateful. The depth and breadth of Penny's knowledge in this space are truly exceptional and, because of her teachings, I am not only a better video call communicator, I am a more prepared professional and leader."
